REFERENCES

Numbered reference list entries are entered in alphabetical order by the author's last name or the name of an institution as the author.

The elements given within each reference entry should be presented in the following order:

- Last name and name of the author, co-author, or institution as the author,
- Publishing year, in parentheses (),
- Title of paper (Italic),
- Name of publication/scientific gathering,
- Name of publisher and place of publishing/Place and date of a scientific gathering,
- Volume and Number of the Issue,
- Pages.

Author A., Author B. i Author C. (Year). Publication, Place of Publishing: Publisher

- Larsen, S. (2007). Aspects of a psychology of the tourist experience. Scandinavian Journal of Hospitality and Tourism, 7(1), 7-18.
- Smith, V. L., & Eadington, W. R. (Eds.). (1992). Tourism alternatives: Potentials and problems in the development of tourism. Philadelphia: University of Pennsylvania Press.
- Stringer, F.P. ed. (1984). The Social Psychology of Tourism, ATR vol 11/1. New York: Pergamon Press.

Book:

- Sapolsky, R. M. (2017). Behave: The biology of humans at our best and worst. Penguin Books.

Paper published in a journal:

- Binnall, J. M. (2019). Jury diversity in the age of mass incarceration: An exploratory mock jury experiment examining felon-jurors' potential impacts on deliberations. Psychology, Crime & Law, 25(4), 345–363.

When listing electronic sources (PDF, Word, Power Point, Excel, etc.), entries in the reference list should be alphabetized by the last name of the author or an institution as the author. Such entries should include all the necessary information, in the following order:

- Surname and name of the author/co-author or the institution as author,
- Document title (Italic),
- Internet address in full,
- The date of retrieval in parentheses ().

For example:

- Cherry, K. (2006). Guide to APA format. About Psychology.
<http://psychology.about.com/od/apastyle/guide> (12.05.2019).

In the case of web based sources in the form of specific information /data, if the author, an institution as the author or document title is not known, the entry should be alphabetized in the reference list by the document title on the website and include all the necessary information presented in the following order:

- Document title on the website,
- Internet address in full,
- The date of retrieval in parentheses ().

For example:

- Fruit of the Nile*. (2000). <http://www.geocities.com/Athens/Olympus/9446/main.htm>, (10.01.2010).

IN-TEXT CITATION

In the text, references to the literature should be by author and year. Use surname of author and year of publication: Jones (2002) or (Jones, 2002). The number of the page containing the cited text should appear at the end of the sentence, e.g. According to Jones (2002), 'the cited text' (p. 10). If the citation is a paraphrase or summary of the source, the page number should be omitted, for example (Jones, 2002). Insert initials only if there are two different authors with the same surname and same year of publication.

Two or more years in parentheses following an author's name are cited in ascending order of year, and two or more references published in the same year by the same author are differentiated by letters a, b, c, etc. For example: (Brown, 1999, 2002, 2003a, b).

Different references cited together should be in date order, for example: (Smith, 1959; Thomson & Jones, 2008; Green, 2015).

Where there are two authors, both should be named, for example: (Thomson & Jones, 2008)

With three or more only the first author's name plus abbreviation "et al." should be used in the text, for example: (Jones et al., 2006).

Please double-check: every citation in the text must match up to an entry in the reference list and vice-versa.

PAPER REVIEW PROCESS

The content of the paper announced in the Abstract should match the Journal's profile and editorial policy. Submitted papers should be original (i.e. not published elsewhere) and written in line with contextual and structural scientific work methodology. Submissions will be blind-refereed by at least two anonymous reviewers, and the decision on its acceptance or declining will be made by the Editorial Board based on the opinion of the reviewers. Submissions are judged on their overall quality, research structure, their contribution to the concept development, originality, creativity, as well as their significance in terms of contribution to the discipline.

PUBLICATION OPPORTUNITIES

Accepted full papers will be published in the next issue of the hotel, restaurant and gastronomy business journal – HOTELLINK.
